

Legal Statement

OkiCore Solutions operates as a sole proprietorship under the direction of Michael Litteral. All professional services are provided in accordance with applicable laws and regulations in Japan. Any agreements, proposals, or work undertaken are governed by these terms and subject to local legal frameworks unless otherwise stated in a written contract.

All materials, communications, and deliverables provided during the course of work are the intellectual property of OkiCore Solutions, unless specified otherwise. Clients are not permitted to reproduce, distribute, or share proprietary content without written consent.

Any legal disputes arising from services rendered shall be resolved in accordance with the governing law section outlined in this document.

